About the Canadian Automotive Museum

The Canadian Automotive Museum opened in Oshawa, Ontario in 1963 to promote the history of the automobile in Canada. The museum is an incorporated charitable, not-for-profit institution with a mission to tell the Canadian story of the automobile and its impact in Canada through the preservation, exhibition, and interpretation of Canadian vehicles and related reference materials.

The museum maintains a collection of over 90 vehicles exhibited in a 25,000 sq. ft. facility. In addition to vehicles, the museum maintains an automotive research library and archives. The museum is open year-round and hosts fun and educational programs for all-ages.
